Last Summer Concert To-morrow

A DELIGHTFUL "MUSIC BOX"

ALTHOUGH the summer music season had only another week to run, the penultimate concert on Sunday night drew a big house and aroused plenty of enthusiasm.

Visitors, it is true, were fewer, but residents remained as true to Billy Cotton as ever. He and his orchestra band certainly give these Sunday audiences a good time, regaling them with just the snappy music that they want, and playing it with irresistible nerve.

THE COURT PLAYERS DRAMA AND COMEDY IN "THE SHADOW"

Though theme and dialogue are rather overladen with what some folk like to regard as the "realities of life," E. P. "Dance" and "Gates" were won by this week's offering by Harry Hanson's superb comedy, "The Court Players" at the Hastings Free Theatre, has the great merit of holding the interest from start to finish.
